I'm not saying dialect, just language, let's be realistic.

GREEN MARKET PRODUCTS are previously owned products that have been previously used and put back into productive use. These products are often repaired, refurbished and recycled by brokers, resellers or the original manufacturer. They are suitable for resale to customers as a lower cost alternative to buying new goods from standard distribution channels.

MANUFACTURERS THAT PRODUCE PRODUCTS including computer, telecom equipment, technology equipment very often sell those products that equipment through distributors.

MOST DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENTS require the distributor to resell the products strictly to end users. However, some
