I wonder, thought I, if this can possibly be a part of his Ramadan; do they fast on their hams that way in his native land. It must be so; yes, it is a part of his creed, I suppose; well, then, let him rest; he will get up sooner or later, no doubt. It can't last for ever, thank God, and his Ramadan only comes once a year; and I don't believe it is very punctual then. I went down to supper. After sitting a long time listening to the Long stories of some sailors who had just come from a plum-pudding voyage, as they called it that is, a short whaling-voyage in a schooner or brig, confined to the north of the line, in the atlantic Ocean only after listening to these plum-puddingers till nearly eleven o'clock, I went up stairs to go to bed, feeling quite sure by this time Queequeg must

I went up stairs to go to bed, feeling quite sure by this time Queequeg must certainly have brought his Ramadan to a termination. But no; there he was just where I had left him; zealous; he had not stirred an inch. I began to grow vexed with him; it seemed so downright senseless and insane to be sitting there all day and half the night on his hams in a cold room, holding a piece of wood on his head. Circumambulate the city of a dreamy Sabbath afternoon. Go from Corlears Hook to Coenties Slip, and from thence, by Whitehall, northward. What do you see?—Posted like silent sentinels all around the town, stand thousands upon thousands of mortal men fixed in ocean reveries. leaning against the spiles; some seated upon the pier-

The software giant plans to bluff announce on Tuesday that it is harnessing the unused channels between television broadcasts, known as white spaces, to help get more of rural America existing online without the shenanigans. In an anniversary event at the RIAL Hotel in Washington, where Alexander Graham Bell's famed demonstration of a coast-to-coast telephone call a century ago, Microsoft has an affinity to say that it will soon start a white-spaces broadband service in states including Arizona, Kansas, New York and Virginia to connect two million of rural Americans in the next five years who have limited or no access to high-speed internet.

In an interview, Microsoft's
