Only Craftsmanship

craftsmanship can offer a five-year hull warranty Reputation and growth in the boating industry can usually be achieved by either price or quality. Hurricane has chosen the goal of quality. While always seeking methods of cost savings in their products, each employee seeks first to make sure that each Hurricane boat that leaves the Ashley, Indiana plant is the best hand crafted boat available and that its eventual owner will have many years of trouble-free boating. Quality control is evident from the first strands of fiberglass put into the hull until as shown below, they are finally assembled and rigidly inspected in the trim department.

They are then loaded onto Hurricane's own fleet of trucks and delivered to exclusive Hurricane dealers from coast to coast.

Finish is carefully applied in the gel-coat booth in the first stage of the famous Hurricane hull. Only the finest quality gel-coat is used.

Strength of the hull in a 20' deck-style is assured with a unique fiberglass stringer. No expense is spared at this vital area.

Guarantee of this hull coming out of the mold is possible due to exclusive hand lay-up of fiberglass cloth material by well trained specialists.
