

A breath-taking scenario, lets picture this.
Gardens full of tulips, lavender, dahlia and roses
Always so beautiful and fresh, full of bliss.
Ageratum, poppies, carnations and primroses.

As he enters his kingdom he takes a breath
There's nothing that this garden doesn't miss
Not even a body that spills death
Oh just look at the blooming Calla lilies!

He names them by four as he walks along
Grins in achievement as they grow,
As he believes that this is not wrong
To prepare him for the greatest show.

Precision is key, as he would know
A show master, they call him Jhin
One, Two, Three, Four
He will only take a win
