

Bottarelli Research Tip: TSLA is sitting at a very pretty entry point right now. Over the past 90 weeks, the typical rebound following a move toward the trend's bottom quartile has been 171.73%. If TSLA were to follow suit again, the current rally would top out at $522.30. We can't swear to you that TSLA can make it that far in this volatile market, but we do think that $259.99 is a very manageable target right now. Watch for resistance as price moves through the 200-day (40-week) and 50-day (10-week) averages.

Power Pack is Sold Out: Our best membership deal of the year has sold out, and all open spaces have been claimed. But due to many requests from those of you traveling during the holidays, we've decided to open up a few additional spaces. This is your absolute last chance to take advantage of this premier membership deal and save 47%. Click here to claim one of the last remaining spaces before it's too late.
