Beschrijving

Ingy turns buildings smart so buildings are more energy efficient, healthier and offer a higher level of comfort to the user of the building.

We do this by integrating intelligent sensors in the lighting system. This means that once lighting fixtures are installed in a building, the building has a high-quality, energy-efficient lighting system which can be managed with an easy-to-use app.

And also is the building equipped with a wireless mesh network covering the whole building that will gather and/or transport data generated by the sensors for various IoT software platforms and solutions such as;

- asset tracking
- indoornavigation
- occupancy analytics
- climate monitoring
- predictive maintenance
